Reason

- Child marriage undermines children's human rights and traumatises their lives and derails any future opportunities and prospects
- Child brides are more likely to become pregnant and experience complications, and this is reported to be the leading cause of death among adolescent girls
- Child brides are more vulnerable to sexually transmitted infections including HIV
- Child brides have not had the opportunity to access education and social support
- Reporting criminality is critical and convicting perpetrators of child marriage is integral for children's safety and protection.
